SATURDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 26.

TWO WAYS TO LIVE.

There are two ways to live on earth-Two ways to judge—to act—to view; For all things here have double birth— A right and wrong-a false and true!

Give me the home where kindness seeks To make that sweet which seemeth small! Where every lip in fondness speaks, And every mind has care for all.

Whose inmates live in glad exchange Of pleasures, free from vain expense; Whose thoughts beyond their means ne'er range, Nor wise denials give offense. Who in a neighbor's fortune find, No wish—no impulse—to complain; Who feels not—never felt—the mind

To envy yet another's gain. Who dreams not of the mocking tide Ambition's foiled endeavor meets-

The bitter pangs of wounded pride, Nor fallen power that shuns the streets. Though Fate deny its glittering store, Love's wealth is still the wealth to choose

Are sands, it is no loss to lose! Some beings whereso'er they go, Find nanght to please, or to exalt-Their constant study but to show

For all that man can purchase more;

Perpetual modes of finding fault. While others in the ceaseless round Of daily wants and daily care.

Can yet cull flowers from common ground, And TWICE enjoy the joy they SHARE! Oh! happy they who happy MAKE— Who, BLESSING, still themselves are blest Who sometimes spare for other's sake, And strive in all things for the best!

HUMOR .- A Nashville druggist has invented a rat paint made of a preparation of phosphorus. - You first catch the rat and then you paint bim, After dark he looks like a bail of fire, and, going among his fellow rats, they get seared to death at the "light of his countenance," and vacate the premises, he hurrying up the rear.

AN AMBIGUOUS MOTTO. - Among the inscriptions emblazoned at the illumination in Calcutta in honor of the Duke of Edinburg, was one which appears slightly ambiguous. It was over an undertaker's door in Dhurrumtollah, and the legand was, "Welcome." It is just possible that his Royal Highness may de cline the implied invitation.

"Who's there!" said Robinson, one cold winter night, disturbed in his repose by some one knocking at the street door. "A friend," was the answer. "What do you want?"
"Want to stay here all night." "Queer taste, ain't it? But stay there, by all means," was the benevolent reply.

"Look here, boy," said a nervous old gentleman to an urchin, who was munching sugar candy at a lecture, "you are annoying me very much." "No, I ain't," replied the ure'ain, I'm a gnawing this sugar candy.
